Campus to be shut down by 12

By Vangie Nitsopoulos

Budget cuts and increasing vandalism have prompted the re-enforcement of a longstanding 12 midnight closing rule at the Scarborough Campus.

The Scarborough Campus police have been instructed by the administration to enforce a rule which states that "no one is allowed to stay in the college after 12 midnight (or 2 a.m. during exam times) for the purpose of studying."

The rule does not apply to students using computers or working on experiments. Tony McWatt, Scarborough Campus Students' Council (SCSC) president, has registered his displeasure with the proposed crack-down.

"Many residence students would like the opportunity to come over to the college at any hour in the night to study. This rule makes it impossible for them to do so." McWatt stated.

McWatt believes that the re-enforcement of the closing rule is due to recent acts of vandalism committed on campus.

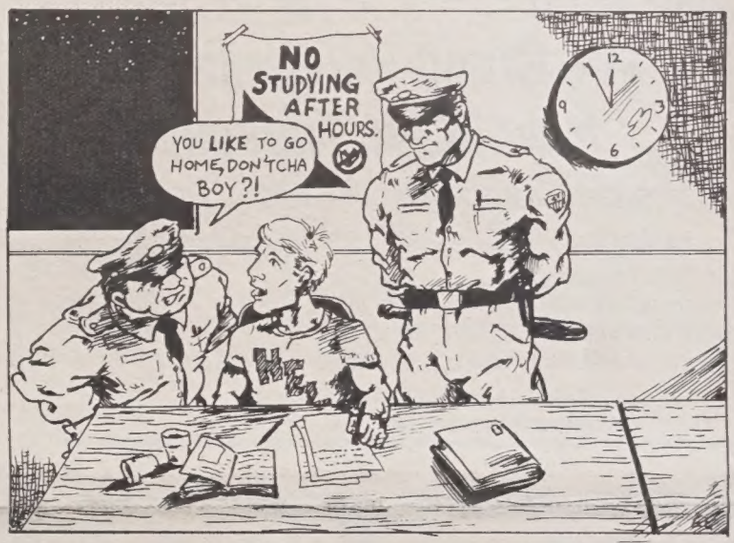
He argues, "I don't think that the people who have been studying past 12 midnight are responsible for the vandalism in the school, so why should they have to pay?"

Sergeant E.F. Harris, head of Scarborough Campus Police, admits that vandalism has been more of a problem in recent weeks but, "there have been other incidents that brought it into effect. Students were bunking, bringing in hot plates and sleeping bags. The seminar rooms were a mess in the morning."

Added Harris, "All in all it (the closing rule) is for the benefit of the day students as well as those who want to study."

Resident fourth year student Wayne MacDonald is against the midnight closing rule. He argues, "It is sometimes too noisy to study in residence" and, "when December exams come, over a hundred students like to stay over night in the college and the closing is going to put a lot of strain in them."

Julia Reed, another resident student, agreed, saying "if there's noise here in the residences, students can't study and if the school is closed, they have nowhere else to go."



McWatt challenged the ability of the Campus Police to keep the college secure past midnight, saying "the real issue is whether our security force is as strong as it should be."

"One person (Campus policeman) patrolling the grounds and one person sitting at the security desk is not enough for our college."

Robin Bryan, in charge of Physical Services, agreed that it is "impossible for them (Campus Police) to patrol the whole college and its grounds."

Bryan states that "in order to keep the school open for 24 hours we need more building services staff and police staff."

Bryan also stated that, "As it is, I just have enough staff to keep a minimum standard of cleanliness and security."

Students vote No on Varsity increase

By Pam Kolahal
and Alvin Ng

Last Tuesday, the vote held to decide the fate of The Varsity fee increase was defeated by 67 votes. 1019 students voted against the proposal while 952 students voted in favour of it.

The question of entrenching a code of ethics for The Varsity passed by a large majority as 1584 students voted for it, while 306 students voted against.

In Scarborough, only 62 students out of a possible 3,500 took advantage of the opportunity to make their views known. Of those who voted, a narrow majority supported the 'no' position (32-30).

The poor turnout has been attributed in part to the lack of prominence of the polling station on the day of vote. Said third-year student Pat Pearson, "I didn't even see the poll in the Meeting Place. It wasn't well placed at all."

Both proponents and opponents of the increase were out in force on the day of the vote, utilizing student presses vote, utilizing pamphlets and flyers in an attempt to sway voters.

One member of the 'no' campaign on Scarborough campus was Scarborough Council Communications Commissioner Deborah Spencer. Spencer commented that she was against the increase because "I didn't like the way they (The Varsity) ran the campaign."

Marg Webb, editor of The Varsity, is bitter about the loss. "The campaign against us was all smoke and ashes", said Webb.

Success of salesman

By Carolyn Houghton

Scarborough's Rising Stars are confidently tackling the challenge of Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman at Harbourfront's Theatre Studio this week.

Rising stars is made up largely of students, faculty and alumni of Scarborough Campus.

Director Anastasia Linardatos and most of the actors are looking towards careers in professional theatre. By the looks of this production, they are well on their way.

This production of Death of a Salesman was presented at Scarborough Campus' studio I last winter. Linardatos has not drastically altered the production although several production although she and the actors admit there has been some development in their interpretation.

"Characters are more rounded, three dimensional, since we've lived with the characters so long and experimented" says Dan Neundorf who plays Willie Loman's son Biff.

For many in the cast, playing at Harbourfront is the first taste of the demands of professional theatre. They feel audiences have higher expectations since serious theatre-goers are likely to attend the performances.

Scott Keyworth plays Willie Loman's second son, Hap. Although he is looking forward

Lounge closed

By Barbara Lim

The Campbell Lounge, Scarborough's only student lounge, will be closed for the remainder of this term.

Renovations in the R-wing classrooms have forced the Administration to convert the lounge into an emergency makeshift classroom.

Scarborough Principal G.R. Williams stated that the repairs could have been delayed but "people kept grumbling, so it seemed best to do it now."

He stressed that most of the construction would be done

Former Academic Affairs Commissioner, Surrinder Dean Toor was sorry to hear that the lounge will no longer be available to students.

Toor said that "The lounge is a place for students to socialize; what the administrative forgets to see is that students need a place to relax."

Renovations will take place at night to avoid unnecessary confusion due to classroom changes.

The lounge will soon be permanently lost to students. Williams said that the Campbell Lounge will eventually be converted into a Fine Art Studio.

EDITORIAL

Students open your wallets

The Scarborough Campus Students' Council (SCSC) will be discussing amendments to the SCSC constitution in their Council meeting this Tuesday.

The primary objective of the changes is to increase next year's President's salary by supplementing it with an added $2,000 in summer salaries. The Vice-President Finance and the Vice-President Administration will also have their salary raised by $800 for the next year.

These increases in salary will apply to next year's executive. Earlier this year, current SCSC President Tony McWatt lost a bid to raise his salary by $2,500 to $6,000. Down but not out, McWatt is now in the process of ensuring that he will receive a substantial retirement package.

Among the constitutional changes proposed is one which deletes the words "not receive any further honoraria whatsoever." This section of the SCSC was initially proposed to prevent an abuse of funds. The deletion of this clause means that this year's President is eligible to receive an honorarium in addition to his salary. There is no limit to the amount of money that can be awarded, and the honourium will be decided upon by the Council.

All this in light of the fact that the SCSC Finance Commissioner two weeks ago released a budget which showed that SCSC was in poor financial condition. The budgets of all the Commissioners were cut. Student services were lessened and Scarborough Fair, delayed from last year, was once again delayed.

It seems that the pocketbooks of student representatives come before the interests of students. Only in Scarborough you say ... pity.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Being financially strapped students, we are outraged at the prospect of having our salad bar meals weighed. This practice will undoubtedly mean higher prices for those who can least afford it-students!

It is bad enough paying over $1300 a year on tuition, $300 a year on books, $0.95 for T.T.C. fares, and a whopping $0.70 for coffee (unbelievable considering the taste!). Now, to top it off, the salad are going to be weighed!

It's not like the salad bar is so tremendously well-stocked either. The tuna-macaroni salad, (a mainstay), makes catfood look appetizing.

Beaver Foods have us over a barrel and they know it! They are capitalizing on their lack of competition at Scarborough College.

We are now faced with the decision of suffering grease-laden junk food(which probably causes premature aging), or trying to get OSAP so that we can afford reasonably nutritious food.

We're damned mad, and we're not going to take it anymore!!! We urge fellow students to boycott the salad bar until this ungodly practice ends. Let's show them that we will not be silenced on this crucial issue.

Let them donate those electronic scales to the biology labs, or to someone who can honestly profit from them.

Sincerely,
The Students' Coalition Against the Abuse of Veggies!!!

To The Editor:

The proposal for the construction of a students' center at Scarborough Campus is a good one.

Students may be asking themselves - when is the buck going to stop? But this center is a truly NEEDED facility at our school.

For starters, our present pub, a much used place of comfort for myself, is far too small to provide students with an optimal level of entertainment, while the meeting place on the other hand is too large, with poor acoustics and much too costly for the SCSC to run events in.

The proposed pub is much larger with a capacity of 350 persons. This would provide students with a more comfortable place to enjoy the events and would allow the SCSC to bring in some of the more attractive costly bands and shows for the benefit of the students.

Presently in our school there is a wide dispersion of study areas. This tends to create a problem for these people that are doing homework because of the socializing that goes on around these areas.

The new student center would contain a lounge that will allow people to socialize without disturbing those who are working. The lounge will also allow segregated groups such athletics, SCSC, H-Wing, S-Wing to all meet in one area and get to know one another.

New students especially would benefit from the lounge and enabling them to make new friends. Other features to the centre are more snacks and food areas, upgraded offices, a clothing and used book store and a Club meeting room.

The actual funding of the center will be paid by a promissary note from U of T. Once the facility is completed only the students attending the campus at that time are the ones that will be paying. The amount not yet determined will be very reasonable and well worth it considering the use that the students will receive from it.

By funding it in this manner (instead of Gov't. grants or loans for example) there will be much less red tape thus allowing the Center to be completed much faster.

As a student of Scarborough College for the past 4 years I am certainly in favour of the proposal and hopeful completion of the Student Campus Center.

Mike Ridley
S.C.A.A. President

Athlete of The Week

Peter O'Sullivan played a key defensive role for the Scarborough Campus Men's Football team last week in their semi-final victory over Erindale.

Peter has been playing the rover position at Scarborough Campus for the past four years. He is also a key member on four of the team's five specialty units.

O'Sullivan is a leader on the field, he calls all the signals for the defensive secondary. Last week he returned a punt over 80 yards for the second of five Scarborough touchdowns. In addition to making and assisting in many tackles, O'Sullivan picked off an Erindale pass late in the game and returned it 40 yards to clinch the victory and ensure Scarborough a berth in the finals.

O'Sullivan is in his final year of a History-Political Science degree, but he may play on next year's team as an alumnus. Peter is also a key member of the undefeated A.L.F. Ball Hockey squad and participates in the Co-ed Touch Football League.

The Underground and Beaver Foods are proud to present Peter O'Sullivan as the Athlete of the Week.

34-0 Win for Scar.

By Mel Catre

The Scarborough Campus Machine is in high gear and still accelerating.

Last Wednesday, the undefeated Scarborough Squad soundly defeated their semi-final opponents from Erindale with a 34-0 win.

The victory gives Scarborough a berth in the championship game for the Mulock Cup, the symbol of Interfaculty Football Supremacy.

The offence was virtually unstoppable as they scored touchdowns on four of their seven drives.

The first touchdown came on the second play of Scarborough's first drive. A perfect pass from quarterback Mark Carrington to a streaking Jim Richardson down the side line resulted in the game's first major.

The Carrington-Richardson connection clicked again to open the second half with "The Connections" second TD, another 60 yard Bomb.

The offence's third and fourth touchdowns came courtesy of Shard McKee who was filling in for Runningback Lionel Carter.

McKee scored on the second down he scored from the twelve yard line behind the awesome blocking of the Hogs. However, he dropped a pass behind the Erindale Defence.

The defence recorded their fourth shutout of the year, lowering their points against average to an astounding 4.67 per game.

The shutout came as a result of solid performances by every member of the squad.

Not only did the squad keep Erindale off the scoresheet, the defence also scored its second touchdown of the year.

The major came on a third down with less than a yard to go. The situation dictated that the defence remain on the field as they expected Erindale to gamble for the first down instead of punting.

Erindale, however, opted for the safer route by punting. The decision turned out to be fatal as Rover O'Sullivan picked up the punt for his second interception of the year and returned it 75 yards for his first touchdown.

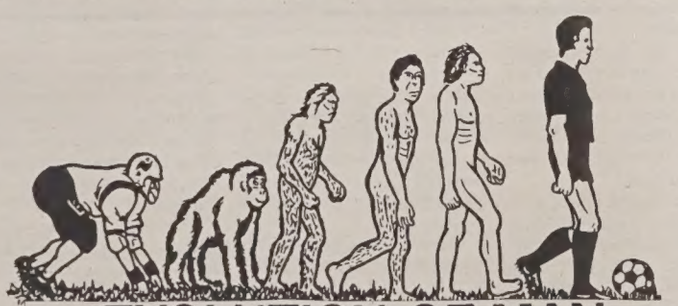
O'Sullivan later picked off his second interception of the year and returned it 35 yards.

Scarborough is now in a position to take its first Mulock Cup since 1977 when that year's squad "won it all", according to coach Russ Henderson.

Since 1977, Scarborough has been to the final game three times but has come up empty each time. The team is thirsty for the cup because for many veterans, this will be their second or third cup appearance. To accomplish a win the squad must have to defeat the Physical Education squad. The championship game will be played this Wednesday at Varsity Stadium, at 1 p.m.

Buses are being sponsored by the Scarborough Campus Athletic Association (SCAA) for fans wishing to cheer the Scarborough squad.

For a fee of one dollar, the SCAA will transport fans to and from Varsity Stadium as well as providng refreshments. For details, enquire at the SCAA office, Room R-2263.



EVOLUTION OF MAN

Scar. defeats Mike's

By Nigel Alty

Last Friday, the Scarborough Campus team defeated a tenacious St. Mike's squad 1-0 in the interfaculty soccer final.

Although both teams entered the game with impressive records, St. Mike's posted a greater point average. They also had the advantage of playing on their home field.

The two teams were well matched in skill and experience. They played a dynamic and professional game together.

In the first half, Scarborough, appeared to strain under St. Mike's relentless assault. The half backs and full backs were thoroughly tested, as St. Mike's established themselves as a threatening force in Scarborough's end.

Scarborough was unable to clear the ball on several goal scoring opportunities. Goal keeper, Dianne Evans, was exceptional in net, scooping up many potential goals.

Late in the first half, Scarborough received an indirect free kick from the corner. Trudy Ferguson presented a beautifully placed kick directly in front of the net, for Scarborough's first and only goal.

Trudy's inspirational goal raised the Scarborough's team's morale considerably.

In the second half, a talented Lisa Robertson, replaced Claire Berube. Lisa assisted Sue Singh with defence.

Sue was perhaps the most outstanding player of the game. She was responsible for breaking the momentum of the St. Mike's offence.

Sue accidentally handled a ball in front of Scarborough's goal, giving St. Mike's a penalty shot. The shot, which was taken by Pat Lawrence, was wide.

St. Mike's tried desperately to win the match; they came as close as hitting the goal post. Pat Lawrence broke loose and appeared to be on her way to an unassisted goal. She was robbed from behind, however, by Lisa Robertson.

Scarborough managed to hold St. Mike's off for the remainder of the match.

Women win football final

By Fred Lightfoot

Several enthusiastic Scarborough fans witnessed a classic defensive struggle last Tuesday as Scarborough defeated Vic 6-1 in the Women's Interfaculty Flag Football Final.

On their opening series Victoria College moved the ball effectively. They only managed a single, however, and led 1-0. Then the Raiders' offence took over.

Quarterback Mary Beth Johnson's attempted pass was intercepted when the ball bobbled in and out of the hands of two Scarborough receivers. The Victoria team looked as if it would score again but they could not get past the Raider's 13 yard-line.

After this strong defensive stand it was time to put the offense into gear.

Johnson tossed a short pass which turned into a 60 yard gain. Nadia Giustini scampered untouched until she was stopped at Vic's 30 yard line.

Almost immediately Sandy Shantz continued this march with a 12 yard reception through the middle. The promising opportunity was missed when Victoria intercepted the ball in the end zone.

In the second half, receiver Bianca Szczyrba ran a deep pattern and caught a pass from quarterback Johnson for six points.

Two Vic players, however, got their outstretched hands on the ball. "I've never done that before in my life," said Szczyrba, describing her catch after it was tipped off in the end zone.

With the score in Scarborough's favour, the downtown visiting team skillfully executed their game plan.

The Raiders did not allow any long gainers by Vic. A kick-off return from Lisa Shigetomi on a reverse helped Scarborough's cause.

Near the end of the contest, Jo Curtis grabbed an interception to secure the victory.

When the outcome of the game became clear, statements like "This is a moment in time to be seen" could be heard from the fans.

Here's a neat picture of a neat basketball team. Charming, aren't they? This is Scarborough Campus. Yawn.

Scarborough wins the Men's Interfaculty soccer finals

By Steve Forrest and Sean Smith

Despite horrible weather conditions and a puddle covered field the Scarborough Campus team triumphed over Erindale in the Univerisity of Toronto Mens Interfaculty Finals.

Jim Richardson led the way for Scarborough, scoring both goals to defeat Erindale. Neither the rain nor the victors let up one bit during the match.

Scarborough made it to the finals on the strength of a 4-1-1 records during the regular season.

Their only defeat came at the hands of Erindale with Scarborough playing four men short.

With a second place finish, the team qualified to play Trinity in the semi-final. Player-coach Rick Harrison said the team encountered very little difficulty in winning that semi-final match 3-0. Harrison and Jim Richardson were responsible for the three goals.

Richardson opened the scoring in the final game. In the opening minutes, he beat the Erindale fullback and directed a shot into the bottom left corner past the keeper.

Prior to Richardson's goal Erindale had controlled much of the game. Following the goal, the match was played primarily in the mud-field.

Scarborough goaltender, Les Husar, played a strong game. He made several key saves before Erindale put the ball by him with another ten minutes left in the match. Both teams played cautiously until regulation time ran out.

Overtime is not played on a sudden-death basis but in two five minute halves. In the opening half of the overtime Richardson scored again, this time from 15 yards out. He was set up in the open by forwards Larry Crook and Rick Harrison.

The team held on for the remainder of the overtime to win the championship. Steve Forest, a mid-fielder on the team, summed up the game when he said, "It was all effort and no skill because of the horrible field and weather conditions."

Salesman at Harbourfront

to the opportunity of performing to a more sophisticated audience, his acting skills are open to hard criticism.

Uncle Ben is played by Ian Morfitt. Bill Graham plays Willie Loman. Graham is a professor of philosophy at Scarborough Campus. He feels that the cooperation of staff and students in the cast leads to "One of the best inter-relationships in the university." He added that "the actors and director are doing so well that it is a pleasure and a privilege to work in this show."

Director Linardatos admits that Death of a Salesman is a depressing play. Nevertheless, she believes it is an important piece of literature and that Willie Loman's American Dream really is universal and applies to everyone

She hopes her production will act as a catharsis for the audience and force people to "seriously think about their lives, relationships and who they are, and to enjoy life day by day."

Death of a Salesman runs November 12-16 at the Studio Theatre at Harbourfront. Tickets are available at BASS outlets or by calling 869-8444.

Constitutional Amendments

The following SCSC Constitutional Amendments passed the Second Reading on Thursday, October 17th.

1. Change section 5:04 subsection i) which reads, "All Commissioners of the SCSC shall be appointed by the SCSC Hiring Committee" to read "All Commissioners of SCSC will be elected by the Students at large."
2. In section 14:01 subsection x) add "Effective May 1st, 1986, SCSC employs the President for summer employment for a period of a maximum of 10 weeks at 40 hours a week at $5.00 an hour, and shall receive no further honorarium."
3. Delete section 14:01 subsection ix) which reads "not receive any further Honoraria whatsoever.
4. Change section 15:02 subsection d) which reads "receive [the Vice-President Administration] an annual renumeration from Council of $1200 in due consideration of the work done on behalf of Council" to read an amount of $2,000.00.
5. In section 15:03 add subsection i) to read "Shall receive annual renumeration equivalent to the Vice-President Administration."
6. To delete section 17:09.

Scarborough Campus...Today's Conceptions, Tomorrow's Realities.

NUMBER ONE IN A SERIES

HOW TO CALL FOR THE BLUE.

CONCH SHELL

This technique was first established by residents of the Seychelles Islands who used it to attract passing pods of sperm whales. Each pod, consisting of one or more whales, produced a sufficient wake to permit local residents to host 12 consecutive international surfing championships. More recently, conch blowing has become popular at numerous seaside watering holes where it was found to attract considerably more attention than the more conventional "Excuse me... waiter."

Or flag flapping as it is often called, enjoys considerable popularity among the nautically inclined. Practitioners of this particularly colourful form of communications have reported physical benefits such as an increase in the size of bicep, tricep and pectoral muscles. This has prompted one enterprising manufacturer of sporting equipment to introduce a new product called "Heavy Flags." This means that when calling for a Blue it is now possible to get bent into shape.

TIN CANS WITH STRING

Success with this approach depends largely upon the size of the cans and the length of the string used. Most waiters or waitresses will show some reluctance at the prospect of walking about their establishment with 50 gallon oil drums affixed to their hips. An empty Blue can (preferably of the larger variety) is considered de rigueur. Users should be advised that calls across the bar are cheaper after six and on Sundays.

Important: Many first time users of this proven technique have complained of what is generally referred to as the "Lloyd Bridges or Jacques Cousteau effect." This can be remedied by making sure that cans are completely drained prior to transmitting or receiving messages.
